

Cyprus November 2022 - Gemma

A huge thank you to Classic Collection Holidays for my visit to the stunning island of Cyprus hosted by the Thanos hotel group.

I spent 5 days staying at the 5* Annabelle hotel located right in the centre of Paphos. There is a promenade in front of the property running all along the coast for both morning and afternoon walks. Sea swimming is also possible from the hotel with safe areas for peace of mind. There is a selection of restaurants to choose from all offering mouth-watering dishes, you will be spoilt for choice. The Mediterraneo, situated right on the seafront, has a stunning outlook and beautiful food.

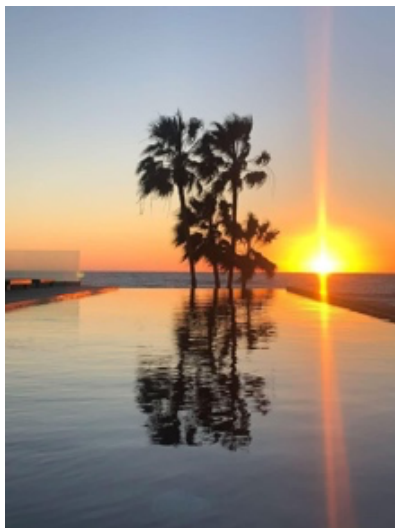

My favourite was the roof top indoor pool for early morning swims with stunning views across the ocean a fully functional gym and sauna too.

Rooms are bright, airy and of a good size, all rooms are front facing out to sea which is a key point for this hotel. Service is exceptional, friendly and warm.

It's a 10 from me.

Next door to the Annabelle is its sister hotel the 5* Almyra which offers a more contemporary, modern Mediterranean style of hotel. The hotel spa is a highlight offering a wealth of beauty and massage treatments in the most peaceful location in the hotel grounds. (Black pools too)

With the children's club having been completely refurbished you know your little ones will be safe and well looked after. They offer morning and afternoon sessions with an option of full day if required. Booking is highly recommended well in advance of arrival.

My favourite restaurant at the Almyra hotel is the Ouzeri situated right next to the ocean and offers an abundance of seafood.

The 5* Anassa in Latchi, Polis on the North West coast of Cyprus offers their clients pure luxury in a retreat style setting situated away from the busier area of Paphos. The hotel is spread across manicured gardens in an elevated position with uninterrupted views across the sea. They offer many different room types but the ocean view junior suites with private plunge pools are just gorgeous, with neutral tones and lots of space you won't want to leave your room!

Families are also very well catered for with a 2-bed villa option. My favourite area was the Italian style terrace with comfy seating looking out across the ocean and the property stretched out below.
